LONDON A. C.'S REPLY FIN KEEL OR BOARD?

It Permits a Selection of a Team Designer Gardner Favors the Fin from All English Clubs.

Sept. 21 or 28 Kext.

LONDON, Jan. 11.-The Secretary of cable message from the Associated Press, containing the substance of the conditions which, according to "The Even-in World's" interview with Mr. Benny C. Williams, Chairman of the Athletic Committee of the New York Athletic Club. would suft that organization. The cable the New York Athletic Club were gen-erally satisfactory, but the London Athletic Club could not officially pronounce upon them until the reply of the New York Athletic Club was received to the The committee of the London Athletic would be that the New York Athletic to make it read that an All England team should go over to the United States. In this case the London Athletic Club think they have a fair chance to die and the broad jump if Fry goes over. But they admit that they are to lose the hammer throw, put-to agree to change the challenge, so as to invite an "All-England" team to come over, as suggested by the London A hietic Club. He said:

"No. The competition must be as unofficially stated between the New York A hietic Club and the London Athletic Club, because they are the representative clubs of America and England. It is the desire of the New York Athletic Club for an annual international contest. The New York Athletic Club for an annual international contest. The New York Athletic Club is the only organization in America capable of carrying out such a plan.
"In regard to enabling the London Athletic Club to strengthen its team the New York Athletic Club is willing to make any reasonable concessions."

Mr. Williams was then asked if the New York Athletic Club would consent to substitute a quarter-mile hurdle race for the 229-yard dash, as suggested by the Secretary of the London Athletic Club He said: "I think it is not possible to do so."

tefers to Roby Club and Wants More Stringent Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 11. Gov. Mat thews, in his message to the Legisla-ure to-day, says, regarding the Roby clumbia Athletic Club, that a more Aringent law governing prize-fighting should be passed. This law should make it a felleny to act either as principal or second. The advertising of a fight should be made punishable by a fine.

Gov. Matthews reviews the coal miners strike last year, and defends his action in quelling the ricts with State troops. Of the Pullman strike the message says: "A strike originating in Pullman, Ill., was in sympathy joined in Ohicago, and from there spread to the tringent law governing prize-fighting man. Ill., was in sympathy force, the American Railway Union in Chicago, and from there spread to the towns and cities in Indiana. As is often true, a vicious element, unable to appreciate the institutions of a free people whose only idea of liberty is license, and respecting no law save that of force, availed themselves of the opportunity to commit depredations."

The services of 759 Indiana troops in this State cost the State $52,807, and this amount the Legislature is asked to provide.

Keel as the Coming Boat.

The Date Practically Settled for New York Yacht Club May Build a Defender by Subscription.

the London Athletic Club, Mr. S. K. Work Yacht Club, told an "Evening World" reporter to-day that he cable message from the Associated would be built. He was not prepared to state where and when the construction of the vessel would be commenced, nor could he say what type of yacht might be selected.

saying that a boat will surely be built, you may state that it is almost a certainty. The matter will come up for Yacht Club on next Monday evening, arranged."

Mr. Holman said that the proposals of the Yacht Club open subscription books: "That I cannot tell. The members themselves will have to decide that ques-

It is probable that if the Club decides to build a boat, all of the prominent designers. Such as the Herreshoffs, Phil Ellsworth, A. Cary Smith, William Gardner, H. Wintringsham, G. Beavor Webb and others will be asked to submit plans.

The type of boat will be the all-important question this year. The speed shown by the Jubilee at times in the trial races last year opened every one's eyes as to the possibilities that this style of yacht is capable of. Jubilee was unfortunate, being badly handicapped by poor rigging.

The fin-keels, too, have developed wonderful speed, but the fallure of the Pilgrim last year rather dampened the aridor of the enthusiasists who believe that this type is superior to all others.

It is not probable that the New York Yacht Club will attempt any experiments with fin keels and dagger centreboards, but will be content with the plain, ordinary, deep sloop rigged centreboard craft that has always been the standard American model, and which has successfully defended the America's Cup for forty years.

Designer William Gardner is a finkeel man.
